

The Payment Depot Approach

We cut out the middlemen, so our members pay only what they have to

Payment Depot is a membership company that connects our members directly to Visa/MC. In the past getting a merchant account was a big deal and small business owners paid a premium in order to be able to accept credit cards. The landscape has changed and now anyone can open a merchant account and everybody is expected to have one. Since it is now a commodity, why should a processor get a piece of every sale? Payment Depot is a membership program that connects you with the direct rates from Visa and MasterCard taking the processor out of the picture. You can get the actual wholesale cost to accept credit cards and not have the processors hand in your pocket. Most of our members save 40% on their bill. There is no reason to pay a premium for the exact same service anymore.

As a NRHSA member, the association has negotiated a custom plan only available to NRHSA members.

Here is the pricing breakdown:
